

crowd-cast Data Purchase and Participation Agreement

Between: pdoom UG (haftungsbeschränkt) ("p(doom)")
And: the Participant (upon onboarding), the Participant

What this agreement covers

You are participating in crowd-cast, a research data collection project run by p(doom). crowd-cast is a desktop recorder that captures screen recordings, keyboard/mouse events, and app/window metadata from applications you choose. The goal is to collect real human computer-work data for AI research.

This agreement sets out the terms under which p(doom) purchases accepted research data from you.

Your role

- You are a private individual, not an employee, freelancer, contractor-for-hours, agent, or representative of p(doom).
- There is no employment relationship between you and p(doom).
- You may install and use crowd-cast to passively record your own computer work.
- You decide when and whether to record. p(doom) does not assign tasks, working hours, deliverables, methods, or a work schedule.
- p(doom) does not supervise your work.

What you are paid for Payment is fixed data acquisition compensation for accepted research data, not compensation for labor time. You are selling data, not working for p(doom).

p(doom) reviews submitted recordings for project relevance, technical quality, and legal/privacy safety. p(doom) may reject or delete data that is staged, mostly idle, private/sensitive, corrupted, legally risky, or otherwise non-qualifying. Only accepted data is eligible for payment.

Compensation

The standard monthly compensation is $300 for regular contributions of qualifying recording data. p(doom) may adjust compensation for a given period if the volume of accepted data is significantly below expectations. Any adjustment will be communicated to the participant before payment.

What you may record

- Your own pre-existing computer work (work you would be doing anyway).
- Work you own or have permission to share.

What you must NOT record

- Employer-confidential or client-confidential material
- NDA-covered work
- Private messages or personal conversations
- Meetings or calls
- Passwords, credentials, or login screens
- Medical, legal, or financial records
- Any material you do not have the right to share

Rights in accepted data

Once data is accepted and paid for, you grant p(doom) an irrevocable, worldwide, perpetual, non-exclusive right to use (Nutzungsrecht) the accepted recordings. This includes the right to:

- Reproduce, store, and archive the recordings
- Distribute, publish, and make publicly available
- Modify, adapt, and create derivative works
- Use for AI model training, evaluation, and benchmarking
- Include in datasets for research and commercial purposes
- Sublicense, sell, and commercially distribute the data or derivative works

These usage rights survive termination of this agreement. Once data is accepted and paid for, the rights granted are permanent regardless of whether your participation continues. p(doom) may exercise these rights without attribution.

You consent to the use of your accepted recordings without attribution (Namensnennungsrecht) and agree not to object to modifications of the recordings for the purposes described above.

Both parties acknowledge that all types of use listed in this agreement (including research, dataset construction, AI model training and evaluation, public dataset release, and commercial distribution) are known and established types of use at the time of this agreement.

You represent and warrant that you have the legal right to provide this data and grant these usage rights, and that the recordings do not infringe the intellectual property rights, privacy rights, or other rights of any third party.

Indemnification

You agree to indemnify and hold p(doom) harmless from claims, damages, losses, or expenses arising from: (a) your breach of this agreement, (b) your recording of material you did not have the right to share, or (c) any third-party claim that your submitted data infringes intellectual property rights, privacy rights, or confidentiality obligations. This indemnification is limited to cases of intentional or grossly negligent breach on your part.

Limitation of liability

p(doom)'s liability for damages under this agreement is as follows: liability for intent (Vorsatz) and gross negligence (grobe Fahrlässigkeit) is unlimited. Liability for injury to life, body, or health is unlimited regardless of fault. Liability for breach of essential contractual obligations (Kardinalpflichten) through ordinary negligence is limited to foreseeable, contract-typical damages. For all other claims of ordinary negligence, p(doom)'s total liability is limited to the total amount paid to you in the 12 months preceding the claim.

Monthly statements

p(doom) may issue monthly Auszahlungsbelege (Data Purchase Statements) documenting each payment. These statements are not invoices under German VAT law (UStG). No VAT is shown and no input VAT (Vorsteuer) is claimed.

Tax responsibility

You are responsible for determining and fulfilling any tax obligations arising from payments you receive under this agreement, in your country of residence or tax jurisdiction. p(doom) does not withhold income tax, wage tax, social security contributions, or VAT for private individual participants unless required by applicable law.

Termination

Either party can end this agreement at any time, for any reason, with no penalty. Just let the other party know. Termination does not affect rights already granted in accepted and paid data.

Right of withdrawal (Widerrufsrecht)

You have the right to withdraw from this agreement within 14 days without giving any reason. The withdrawal period expires 14 days after the day of the conclusion of the contract. To exercise the right of withdrawal, you must inform p(doom) (pdoom UG, Volkartstr. 43, 80636 München, Germany, mihir@pdoom.org) of your decision to withdraw by an unequivocal statement (e.g. an email).

If you withdraw within the 14-day period, any compensation already paid to you for data not yet accepted must be returned. p(doom) will confirm the withdrawal and any amounts owed within 14 days.

By beginning to record and submit data, you expressly consent to p(doom) beginning performance of the agreement before the withdrawal period has expired. You acknowledge that you will lose your right of withdrawal once the agreement has been fully performed (i.e., once data has been accepted and paid for).

Governing law

This agreement is governed by German law. If a dispute arises, both parties will try to resolve it informally first.